NEWS and the JEWS

The week in review

UN Promoting Peace

UN Security Council chief, Kofi Anan, has condemned Israel for conquering "Palestinian territories", stating that Israel must relinquish all the territories it conquered in the 1967 war [Judea, Samaria, Gaza, the Golan, the Old City of Jerusalem, the Western Wall, the Temple Mount] for peace with the "Palestinians". Anan also said that Israel is blocking the peace process.

Creeping Up On The Golan

Syria is building new and renewed communities in the demilitarized zone between Israel and Syria on the Golan Heights. The Syrians have recently begun construction of a new city on the Golan, opposite the Druse town of Majdal Shams, on the Israeli side of the border. According to residents of Majdal Shams, the Syrian government has encouraged their Syrian relatives to move to the new town "in order to be closer to their relatives" in Israel. In addition, the last year has seen an unprecedented construction frenzy in the abandoned Golan town of Kuneitra. Entire new neighborhoods there currently stand empty.

IDF sources warn that such empty buildings may ultimately be intended to serve as Syrian military outposts in the demilitarized zone. The Syrians may be able to bring commandos into the demilitarized zone under the pretense that they are civilians moving into the new neighborhoods, the sources indicated.

Chevron Still Under Attack

The IDF retreated from most of Chevron three weeks ago, and as Jewish residents of the city predicted, terrorism has only increased. In the latest incident, two patrol soldiers were shot and wounded on the road to Kiryat Arba, Wednesday night. The shots were fired from the Abu Sneineh hills.

A Chevron spokesman said that there have been ten other attacks in the past three weeks, including shootings from the Haret A-Sheikh hills, two attempted stabbings, and two bombs. In one attack, Rabbi Yisrael Shlissel, son-in-law of Rabbi Shlomo Ra'an, who was murdered by terrorists in his home in 1998, was the target of dozens of bullets as he was driving by the western entrance to the city. He was miraculously only scratched by shrapnel.

There is no doubt, that the Arabs have violated the conditions demanded of them upon the Israeli retreat from 80% of the city. For these reasons, we demand that the IDF be returned to all of Chevron immediately, prior to another tragedy!

STUFF you should know

Yearning For Shahada

On the children's page, of the PA's daily Al-Ayyam, a political cartoon is published equating an Israeli hand grenade and death, with an American Hamburger. Both these sentiments, yearning for Shahada and hatred of America are integral parts of PA's ideology. The children's opinions are indicative of this ideology being passed on to the next generation.

My Land

By Omar Ali Amda (6th grade)

I have responded to my country's call,
My honor shall not fall.
My Shahada [dying for Allah] is in my hands,
I shall redeem my country with my soul.
And protect my religion with my heart,
I am not troubled by the breaking of my bones,
I am not bothered by the demolition of my house.
Oh, occupier, hear me: I am Arab, I am Arab.

PEOPLE of the BOOK

Projecting An Image Part VI

There are many nations - including several of the Arab countries so vehement in their criticism of Israel - which flagrantly violate human rights and yet they are rarely, if ever, called to account for this by the world community. The reason: These countries simply will not listen.

Israel must also learn to show strength. And in her instance, the strength can come, not from hollow bravado, but from genuine principles, foremost among them being the need to protect the lives of her citizens. And when this course of action is applied resolutely, she will win respect in the world at large.
